

With Grateful Hearts

We give thanks to God for the extraordinary community of musicians, leaders, technicians, administrators, donors, and volunteers—past and present—who fill the sanctuary, halls, and shared life of Grace Covenant Presbyterian Church with music that glorifies God and deepens our worship.

Across generations of faithful leadership, through careful planning, countless rehearsals, quiet preparation, generous giving, administrative coordination, and steadfast service—much of it unseen—these individuals offer their gifts so that our congregation may sing, listen, pray, and encounter God more fully. Their work reminds us that music is not merely an accompaniment to worship, but a living testimony of faith, devotion, and shared calling.

We honor with deep gratitude those who have shaped our musical life through artistic leadership and performance, as well as those whose administrative care, technical expertise, and behind-the-scenes support make this ministry possible. Together, their faithfulness forms a legacy of praise that continues to bless our church and glorify God.
